

NORTHROP RICE FOUNDATION

SOUTHWEST AIRLINES BOEING 300/500 OR 700 SERIES TRAINING

GENERAL INFORMATION

The Northrop Rice Foundation is pleased to administer the Southwest Airline Boeing 300/500 or 700 training scholarship. Southwest Airlines is donating one scholarship per year for one instructor of an ATEC Member School. The scholarship provides for attendance in either a two-week Systems or one-week Avionics Course on the Boeing 300/500 or 700 Series airplanes. This training scholarship will be awarded to an instructor selected by the Board of the Northrop Rice Foundation.

The Southwest training course will be conducted at the Southwest Headquarters Training facility in Dallas, TX. In order to be considered for selection for the Southwest Award the applicant must meet the following requirements.

Scholarship Conditions and Requirement

1. Deadline for the submission of applications is March 1. The name of the recipient will be announced at the ATEC Annual Conference.
2. All applicants must have an A&P Certificate to be eligible, be teaching at an ATEC Member School, and have the approval of the school administrator.
3. Only one instructor from any school will be considered unless in the opinion of the selection Committee there be extenuating circumstances.
4. All applicants are required to submit letters of recommendation from two professional persons who are not associated with the school at which the instructor is employed.
5. A description of how past work and accomplishments have resulted in the enhancement of Aviation Maintenance student education.
6. List of subjects taught.

All applications are to be submitted to:

Ivan D. Livi, 210 Melvin Drive, Pittsburgh, Pa 15236-1432.
